Help Your Financial Adviser to Give You the Most Appropriate Advice

Morgan Stanley Wealth Management may provide you with factual information or financial product advice (including both general advice and personal advice).

Factual information will not take into account your personal circumstances.

Financial product advice is a recommendation, opinion or a report that is, or can reasonably be regarded as being, intended to influence your decision about a particular financial product.

Personal advice is different from general advice because it takes into account your personal circumstances which include your objectives, financial situation and needs.

If you are a retail client and we give personal advice, we have a duty to act in your best interests when providing personal advice, and are obliged to provide you with appropriate advice. We also have an obligation to warn you if the personal advice we provide you is based on incomplete or inaccurate information.

Providing your financial adviser with sufficient information will ensure your financial adviser is in a position to act in your best interests and provide you with the most appropriate personal advice. You will need to provide details of your personal objectives, financial situation, needs and any other relevant information, including by completing any account profile form that your financial adviser may provide you.

After you have provided this information, you should update your financial adviser about any changes. If you do not provide complete information, or you do not update your financial adviser about changes, your financial adviser will be limited in ability to make recommendations that are relevant to your needs and may be providing you advice based on inaccurate information. You should consider the appropriateness of any advice that is given based on incomplete or inaccurate information about your personal circumstances.

Other Documents You May Receive From Us

If you choose to use any of our financial products or services, you may also receive other important documents including:

Statement of Advice

A Statement of Advice (“SOA”) is a written record of personal advice provided to you. If you are a retail client, you will normally receive an SOA when we provide you with personal advice that takes into account one of more of your personal objectives, financial situation and needs.

The SOA will contain:

- the advice given to you
- a summary of the basis on which the advice is given
- information about remuneration, commissions and fees related to the provision of the advice
- any associations or relationships that may have influenced the provision of the advice.

You should read the warnings contained in the SOA carefully before making any decision based on the advice contained in the SOA.

Where additional or further advice is given in relation to any financial product, which is consistent with the SOA previously provided to you, we may not provide you with an additional SOA. However, we will document any further personal advice that we give you in a Record of Advice (“ROA”), a copy of which can be obtained by contacting your Morgan Stanley Wealth Management financial adviser. You can request a copy of the ROA at any time within seven years from the date on which the advice was given.

Offer Documents

A product disclosure statement, prospectus or offer document (“Offer Document”) contains information about a financial product to help you to make a decision about the product. The information may relate to the features, benefits, risks and fees of the relevant product. You will usually receive an Offer Document if we make a recommendation to acquire a particular financial product (other than securities) or an offer is made to issue, or arrange the issue of, a particular financial product.

Best Execution Policy Disclosure Statement

Morgan Stanley Wealth Management has adopted a policy in relation to its best execution obligations under the ASIC Market Integrity Rules (Securities Markets) 2017 (“Market Integrity Rules”). In accordance with the Market Integrity Rules, we will provide you with a Best Execution Policy Disclosure Statement to help you decide whether to instruct us to handle and execute orders for financial products that are within the scope of the best execution obligations prior to handling or executing any such orders. We will also notify our clients of any material changes made to our best execution arrangements. A copy of our Best Execution Policy Disclosure Statement is also maintained on our website at www.morganstanley.com.au.

How You Can Instruct Us

You may give us instructions or update us with information relating to your account by telephone, mail, email or facsimile. When orders or information are provided by facsimile or email, the order or information is not considered to have been received by Morgan Stanley Wealth Management until confirmation of receipt is communicated by your financial adviser to you.

Please note that certain information such as changes to banking details must be advised in writing.

How We Are Remunerated

Fees and Benefits We Receive For Providing Financial Services to You

Morgan Stanley Wealth Management may charge you a fee for providing a service to you, or in relation to a product acquired by you. Information about the fees, commissions and/or benefits will be set out in the SOA if one is required, Offer Document or other information document. The fee may be charged in various ways, as documented below.

ADMINISTRATION FEE

We may charge you an annual fee for administering the relevant product or account. Generally this fee will be payable annually in advance. You will be advised of the administration fee amount when you open an account with us or when it is first charged, and of any changes to that fee from time to time.

TRANSACTION-BASED FEE

Under a transaction-based fee arrangement, Morgan Stanley Wealth Management will charge you a commission (or brokerage) per transaction that is a flat dollar amount or is based on the value of the securities bought or sold. A minimum charge may apply. You will be advised of the rate of commission when you open an account with us and of any changes to our commission rates from time to time. The commission fee will also be disclosed to you in the confirmation of the transaction, which you will receive from Morgan Stanley Wealth Management.

ASSET-BASED FEE

Under an asset-based fee arrangement, Morgan Stanley Wealth Management will charge you a regular fee that is a flat dollar amount or is based on the value of assets in your account. A minimum charge may apply.

OTHER FEES

Fees may also be payable for the provision of services such as preparation of a financial plan or the provision of custody arrangements or an administrative service. These fees may depend on such variables as funds invested, number of products, complexity of the service or plan or the exact service provided. Your financial adviser will inform you of these fees prior to the provision of the relevant service. Additionally, where you place any funds with us to be held in trust, we will retain any interest earned on those funds.

We may also pass on to you other costs and expenses incurred on your behalf as well as duties and taxes payable including GST.

Monetary Benefits Paid to Us by Product Issuers and Others

If you invest in a product recommended by us, where permitted by law, Morgan Stanley Wealth Management may receive benefits from fund managers, product issuers and life insurance providers. The amount of the monetary benefit will vary depending on a number of factors, including the arrangement we have with the product issuer, fund manager or insurance provider and the type of financial product provided to you.

Typically, the monetary benefit paid to us is a percentage of the initial and/or ongoing fees.

When acquiring interests in managed funds we may or may not be paid an upfront benefit by the fund manager. Where applicable, the upfront benefit is generally in the range of 0.5% to 5% of the amount you invest. We may also receive an ongoing benefit. This amount may vary and is typically 0.25% to 1% per annum of the value of your holdings in the product for as long as you continue to hold the product.

When acquiring financial products other than managed funds, we may or may not be paid an upfront benefit by the product issuer. Where permitted by law, that upfront benefit is generally in the range of 0% to 5% per annum calculated on the amount you invest. We may also receive an ongoing benefit. This amount may vary and is typically 0.2% to 0.4% per annum of the value of your holdings in the product for as long as you continue to hold the product.

The monetary benefit that may be paid to us by product issuers and others will be disclosed in the SOA (where applicable), or the relevant Offer Document. Your financial adviser will explain to you the level of monetary benefit at the time of making a recommendation to you.

How Are Our Financial Advisers and Other Staff Remunerated?

Adviser remuneration is paid by Morgan Stanley Wealth Management where permitted by the law. Your financial adviser is remunerated on a base salary plus commission basis and may also receive a bonus under a balanced scorecard bonus plan. Commission is payable once the financial adviser's base salary is covered and ranges from zero to 55% of the fees and other revenue received by Morgan Stanley Wealth Management which are attributable to the financial adviser ("Attributable Fees"), less any applicable fees and deductions. The exact rate is determined by reference to brokerage and fee revenue generated by your financial adviser for Morgan Stanley Wealth Management each month. Applicable fees and deductions may include referral fees, business development costs, discount adjustments for any fees charged which are below Morgan Stanley Wealth Management's standard fee schedule and damages and losses.

Your financial adviser may also be eligible to receive additional incentives of up to 20% of Attributable Fees based upon factors including but not limited to achieving revenue targets, regulatory compliance and customer satisfaction.

If your financial adviser performs additional managerial roles for Morgan Stanley Wealth Management, they will be eligible to receive the commission referred to above in addition to their base salary. In addition to this, they will be eligible to receive a discretionary bonus based on their performance in their managerial role. Managerial, paraplanning and other administrative staff may receive a bonus as part of their remuneration. The bonus is entirely at the discretion of management.

Morgan Stanley Wealth Management employees and directors receive salaries and bonuses based on performance criteria and other benefits from us.

The Offer Document for a particular product should disclose further details of remuneration paid to Morgan Stanley Wealth Management. Your financial adviser will also set out the remuneration and commissions they receive in the SOA (if one is required).
